

What's Happening On Sumdog?

Recently we have been setting you Sumdog challenges for maths and grammar. From now on, we have decided to stop setting challenges but we are, instead, asking you to spend a set amount of time on Sumdog each week working on the maths and grammar skills that Sumdog chooses for you.

For a short time, you might find that the questions being set are too easy or too hard for you. This is just Sumdog trying to work out exactly where your strengths and next steps are. Once Sumdog has gathered enough data about your progress, it will begin to set you specific skills to work on. Each time you master a new skill, it will give you another to work on, specifically tailored to your needs.

If possible, we'd like you to try and spend 30 minutes on grammar tasks and 45 minutes on maths tasks each week. You can spend longer if you wish. We will be able to track your progress as you go. There will still be a weekly spelling assessment to complete.

Good luck and have fun!
